

Circle of Excellence

When reading, I would substitute an average of one word every two to three paragraphs. I may read the word "princess" but see "priceless". Although both words were useful, the sentence would make no sense to me. It would take me anywhere from 2-5 times through a sentence to find the word that I changed, making reading slow and painful. Using the Circle of Excellence process, I had immediate, amazing results. Now I may have one or two substations A DAY! READING IS FUN!
