

Well Formed Outcome – Tony

My wife and I are committed to having a great family. We were struggling though with just how we were going to go about creating this fabulous family. I mean, what exactly does a great family look like? It seemed like a huge job with no clear place to begin. We used the Well Formed Outcome process from NLP. After answering a series of questions, we were both felt totally clear about our way ahead. The path to our future family was lit up like a runway!
